Budget and Tax Rate Adopted by Council

Appropriate $88,844 to Run Borough During the Year 1930.

The budget for 1930, consisting of the sum of eighty-eight thousand eight hundred and forty-four dollars ($88,844), was adopted by ordinance by the Narberth Borough Council at its regular meeting on Monday night at Elm Hall. The tax rate of 19 mills on the dollar was also passed by ordinance.

Included in the budget for the first time is an item of $1400 for the Recreation Board. A similar amount is being appropriated by the School Board, giving the Recreation Board something to work with in developing recreation facilities in the borough.

In response to a plea from the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Narberth Community Library Association, setting forth the library's needs and services to the community, the appropriation for the library was increased from $2000 to $2500.

Other items picked at random from the budget are as follows: for police expenses, $10,100; for fire protection, $7300; for roads, bridges and sewers care and maintenance of same, collection of ashes and incidental highway expenses, $28,000. (This last, incidentally, is the largest single item in the budget.)

Committee appointments announced by President Daniel Leitch are as follows: Highway and Sewer—Robert F. Wood, chairman; Edward S. Haws and Clifford W. Bates; Police and Fire—Edward S. Haws, chairman; John R. Hall, William H. Fretz; Water, Light and Health—John R. Hall, chairman; W. H. Fretz, E. S. Haws; Building—W. H. Fretz, chairman; E. S. Haws; J. R. Hall; Law and Ordinance—C. W. Bates, chairman; R. F. Wood, Clarence Kaeber; Finance—C. Kaeber, chairman; C. W. Bates, R. F. Wood; Liens—C. Kaeber, chairman; C. W. Bates, R. F. Wood; Property—W. H. Fretz, chairman; C. Kaeber, J. R. Hall.

Expect Big Crowd

Earle Looker, intimate friend of Theodore Roosevelt, author of "The White House Gang" and war veteran, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, of Narberth, at the Community Building on Monday evening at 8:15. The meeting will be open to the public and all who are interested in hearing this eminent man are cordially invited by the Post to attend. The Post considers itself fortunate in getting Mr. Looker to Narberth as he is soon starting on a lecture tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lynn Miller of 11 Shirley Road, are being congratulated upon the birth of twins, a son, Richard Lynn Miller, Jr., and a daughter, Jane Brown Miller, on January 8 at the Bryn Mawr Hospital. Mrs. Miller will be remembered as Miss Dorothy Nelms.

Does It Pay?

Editor, "Our Town":

Last Friday in your paper I advertised that Abbott's de luxe ice cream, of a new, superior deliciousness, can now, for the first time in Narberth, be purchased here.

Forty orders for that ice cream were received by us over the week-end, because of that advertisement, which was our only means of telling residents of the new ice cream.

Shea's Drug Store is so convinced that advertising in the community weekly paper pays that we plan to run a series of ads from now on.

J. PAUL SHEA.

Trade Board Head Urges Co-operation

Col. Kesler, Re-elected President, Deplores Lack of Co-operation.

TO REAWAKEN INTEREST

Plans for an awakening of interest in the Narberth Board of Trade were made by that body at a meeting held in a vacant Haverford Avenue store Monday evening. At the same time officers were elected for the new year.

Colonel A. A. Keesler, of the Narberth Hardware Company, was re-elected president. Marios Chios, of the Arcadia Restaurant, is the new vice president, and Secretary-Treasurer J. Bertram Nesper, the borough's postmaster, was re-elected to serve his fifth year's term.

An executive committee was formed, consisting of J. L. McCrery, Ralph S. Dunne, H. B. Wall and J. J. Whiteside.

Monday evening, February 10, was set as the time for the board's next meeting, to be held at Mrs. Suzanne Joret Gill's invitation at her home, 216

Upper Darby and Germantown Academy Fall Before Maroon Basketball Team

Lower Merion won her second start in the Suburban League race last Friday night at Upper Darby by defeating the boys from Delaware County by a score of 45 to 23. They followed this up by taking another game from a new opponent, Germantown Academy, on Tuesday afternoon on the Ardmore floor, 53 to 36.

The latter victory ran Coach Bill Anderson's string to eight straight victories for the season. Any doubt of the strength of the Maroon team was dispelled in the game with Germantown, as the boys outscored and outplayed generally a team of six-foot giants. Wilson, the visiting centre, is six feet seven inches tall; young McGillicuddy,

Gives Tea For Daughter

Mrs. Frederic C. Torrey, of 500 Essex Avenue, gave a tea on Saturday for her daughter, Miss Ruth Ware Torrey, who completed last June a two-year post-graduate course in journalism at Columbia and is now writing feature articles on the staff of the Washington Star. A number of her signed articles have been published, one being on the original "Show Boat" and one on the broadcasting of time from Washington. A full page illustrated article on the prohibition question, syndicated to several hundred newspapers, under her pen name, "Ware Torrey," appeared in one of the Philadelphia papers last Sunday.

Mrs. Griffith to Speak at Mothers' Council Monday

The Mothers' Council of Narberth has been very fortunate in securing as their speaker for this month Mrs. Jennie A. Griffith. The subject of her address will be "The Fir Tree and the Nursery." This promises to be a most interesting discussion of the parents' responsibility and it is hoped that every mother and father in Narberth will take advantage of this opportunity.

Mrs. Griffith is a resident of Narberth and much beloved of all those who know her. Those who already know her will not need a second invitation to attend Mothers' Council meeting and those who do not are cordially invited to come and gather from her vast experience the things they will want to learn. Mrs. Griffith has worked among children for a number of years, both in institutional work and personally.

Mothers' Council meeting is held promptly at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, January 20, in the Narberth Public School auditorium. All those interested in the welfare of children are invited to attend this meeting.

Milk Dealer Fined

Selling milk in the borough without a permit from the Narberth Board of Health cost William Cornhoff, milk dealer of Philadelphia, $10 and costs when arraigned before Magistrate H. C. Fritsch on Wednesday afternoon. The hearing was attended by Dr. George A. Sloan, president of the Narberth Board of Health, and Dr. George Grim, milk control officer of the Lower Merion Township Board of Health.

Takes Helm Monday

George Holly Gilbert, new principal of Lower Merion Senior High School, who will take up his duties on Monday and will greet his faculty, school board members and students at an informal reception in the Library at the close of school.

New Health Centre Opens in Elm Hall

Baby Specialist and Nurse Inspect Babies, Advise Mothers.

Two babies—Mary Strogen and Mary Constantino—were the first to be given attention by Narberth's Child Health Centre, which formally opened at 2 P. M. Wednesday in the Woman's Club Room, Elm Hall. They were brought by their mothers despite the fog and rain.

Dr. John M. Mitchell, baby specialist, was in charge of the Centre, and Miss Bessie Grane was the nurse in attendance. Both will be present here after from 2 to 4 P. M. on Wednesdays. Managing the Centre is Miss Rose Ehrenfeld, of Ardmore's Community Health and Civic Association. Dr. George A. Sloan, president of the Narberth Health Board, was present with other members of the Community Club committee sponsoring the new service.

Volunteer workers at the recording table were Mrs. William Collins and Miss Constance Morris.

Re-elect Directors

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Narberth National Bank on Tuesday the entire Board of Directors was re-elected. The Board will hold its annual meeting next Wednesday to elect their officers. The directors are William C. Alexander, Jr., F. von A. Caheen, Jr., Edwin P. Dold, Howard Hager, Edward S. Haws, H. Boardman Hopper, Charles E. Kremer, J. L. McCrery, Carl B. Metzger, William R. Parker, A. Perry Redifer, Jr., Fletcher W. Stites, James K. Stone and Leonard W. Williams.

Robber Breaks Into Fairview Klan Home

Money, Tobacco, Candy Stolen;
Steel Filing Cabinet Broken In.

POOR BOX ALSO TAKEN

Breaking into the Fairview Home of the Red Star Klan of Ardmore on Tuesday night, an unknown intruder made away with a contribution box used for orphans, money, cigars, cigarettes and candy and concluded his depredations by breaking into a steel filing cabinet with a garden spade. It was the second robbery in the Home within the past six months.

The thief made his entry by removing the glass from a basement window. The door leading to the kitchen where the refreshment booth stands, which contained the articles robbed was completely ripped off its hinges. Doors leading to the men's, women's and junior organization rooms were treated in like manner.

The steel filing cabinet was locked and contained no valuable papers. Officers of the Klan feel that the intruder was looking for information.

The Klan wishes it known that there is no valuable information kept at the Home and very little money. If the intruder is in need, aid will be given him regardless of creed, a Klan official stated, provided he makes himself known. Past events will not be held against him, it was stated.

Klansmen are now guarding the Home and intend to punish anyone caught breaking into the Home in the future. A reward has been offered by the Klan to anyone giving information leading to the conviction of the thief.

'Unseasonably Warm'

Last Thursday, January 9, the thermometer touched 69 degrees Fahrenheit, 27 above normal, the warmest day since last fall. The month so far is characterized by Main Line Weather Observer Charles Decker as "unseasonably warm." High low temperatures for the week of January 7 to 13 are as follows: Tuesday, 59-34; Wednesday, 66-43; Thursday, 69-48; Friday, 57-24; Saturday, 27-13; Sunday, 40-25; Monday, 46-34.

This week-end the Egyptian is giving the Sax Rohmer talking thriller, "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," accompanied on a well-balanced program by the new Laurel and Hardy talking comedy, "Men of War."

Report of Library Treasurer Shows Where Money Goes

The report of the finances of the Narberth Community Library for the calendar year as submitted by the treasurer, Mrs. Clifford W. Bates, reveals some very interesting statements.

According to her report there are three sources of income: an appropriation of $2000 from the Borough Council, an appropriation of $300 from the school Board, and a varying amount averaging about $1200 received from rentals and overdue charges on the books. According to the budget as established by the library, the appropriation of Council is allotted to salaries, and the appropriation of the School Board to the purchase of books used in connection with school work, to books of reference and of standard merit.

This leaves the money received over the library desk, collected as rentals and fines, to be used in all other expenses connected with the purchase, preparation and circulation of books. Of the $1254.04 received during the year ending December 31, $797.41 was spent for books other than those provided for in the School Board appropriation, $114.85 for magazines, $209.10 for rebinding worn books, $70.65 for supplies, such as book pockets, charging cards, date-loaned slips, and $51.75 for postage, express and miscellaneous items.

With a balance of $10.28 in this account the library goes hopefully on, replying on the reading interest of the citizens of Narberth to provide the income for the coming year as it has in the past. The 28 per cent. increase in circulation over last year's record or 38,650 books circulated compared with 32,000, is an indication of the response of the community to the service which the library offers.

Legion Auxiliary Recounts Year's Accomplishments

"Are you aware of all the American Legion Auxiliary has accomplished during 1929?" If not let an officer recount some of the high spots. Garments were sent to veterans at Perry Point, Md.; also clothing contributed to a local veteran's family during illness; donations of cash and 47 garments made to the Needlework Guild (in which the unit holds a directorship); 12 garments sent to State Child Welfare Bureau and at Christmas they took care of three children with clothing, toys, candy, etc., also a Christmas box sent to one of our local veterans who was hospitalized at that time. In addition, they assisted in the Bi-County Council picnic held annually at Valley Forge for mental cases from Hospital 49, Philadelphia, made the annual award of medals to children in both the public and parochial schools. In addition, ladies visited the veteran hospitals from time to time, taking cards, games, cigarettes, etc., for the veterans.

Have you seen the post room since it was furnished? Meetings, card parties and social gatherings are going to be much more enjoyed in this cheerful setting and we sincerely hope any lady eligible to membership will either correspond with Mrs. E. H. Wipf, 204 Sabine Avenue, or better still join us next Tuesday, January 21, when we have our regular monthly meeting in the post room, Community Building.

Ashes are actually the result of the burning of the impurities in your coal. There are many anthracite coal veins in Pennsylvania of varying characteristics. You can readily see the importance of selecting a coal for its natural purity and for the thoroughness of preparation at the mines.

The chemical analysis of Jeddo-Highland, the Aristocrat of Anthracite, has consistently shown, over a period of seventy-one years, the smallest percentage of ash of any coal mined. This will result in less ash, less waste, less work—and more heat per dollar spent for fuel.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Various Things.

The old smithy at the corner of Haverford Avenue and Montgomery Avenue, Narberth, is about to be demolished to make way for a gasoline filling station. This is a tragedy! In this shop were shod the horses of Cornwallis' army. Enemies though they were, their attendance at this spot, so conspicuous to the motoring public, should make it a historic relic. Would that the gasoline filler had sentiment enough to preserve the interesting old building while carrying on his modern and progressive business.

This morning I saw a resplendent motor bearing the license "V F" and under this was attached a plate reading "Valley Forge Military Academy." Do you suppose the owner was unable to secure "V F M A"?

Another local place of historical interest is threatened with extinction. The ancient inn opposite the smithy is the target of shots for a padlock proceeding. Is it possible that unlettered men would deny to the devotees of established precedent the rite of quaffing ale in the tap room patronized in past years by early patriots?

* * *

As for the weather—does someone want to endow a middle-aged columnist with a permanent fund to establish a six months' residence in Florida, the West Indies, or Bermuda?

* * *

It is alleged that women have no sense of humor. That is untrue. When I was quite young my sister laughed long and lustily when I fell off a high wheeler and banged my solar plexus so that I gasped for minutes unable to utter a sound. It is easily proved that women will laugh at the discomfort of any male. That they consciously invent humorous situations or actually create jokes is quite a different matter. I am quite willing to be convinced. I know that when some cloud hangs over an exuberant escapade of mine, Aunt Cy seems to be oddly lacking in a proper appreciation of wit; in fact, she seems to have little sense of the ridiculous unless I am truly embarrassed.

* * *

A Main Line gentleman replied with verbose charity but keen thrusts to the prohibition propaganda which appeared here two weeks ago, but his remarks occupied so much space that it would have required three weeks' use of the space of the column to present it, and by that time some of you might tire of the subject. At any rate, I am indebted to the gentleman for his interest in the welfare of his fellow-men.

* * *

I note that the Lower Merion Board of Health keeps the township well on forty cents per capita per year. Isn't there some dentist who can devise a means to keep the teeth of his patients sound for somewhere between forty cents and forty dollars a year?

* * *

Italy has enjoined attorneys to plead not the case of the client, but justice and the ultimate good of the State. There is to be no misrepresentation no haggling over technicalities, no "sophisticated" stuff. In this great land of ours it has happened again and again that a very guilty person has, through legal subterfuge, been acquitted. Of course, my views are my own, but it seems that if the courts would spend as much vigilance in seeing justice done as they do in seeing the trivial technicalities observed that the average citizen would fare better and country as a whole would have more respect for the majesty of the law. Who will dare fight through such a revolutionary movement?

Why don't modern villages rent parking space along their curbs at a rate of 10 cents an hour or so? A traffic policeman could wear an abdominal register like a trolley conductor and decrease the tax rate.

Earle Looker

An interesting life has been led by Earle Looker, who will be the speaker at the Post's meeting on Monday night, which is open to the public.

Some two million magazine readers know him as the author of "The White House Gang."

Earle Looker, born in Washington, a member of the group of boys who played in the White House during Roosevelt's regime, met in the most informal fashion and grew to intimately know many history-makers of national and international importance.

Still in his early youth, he became a newspaperman in Cleveland, a preparation for war correspondence and magazine writing—for he was to find himself in Belgium and France just before the outbreak of the World War.

In August, 1914, he was one of the organizers of the famous American Ambulance at Neuilly-sur-Seine, serving with a field section of it through the stirring events of the first winter campaign of '14-'15. Together with some other notable American volunteers, he carried wounded in the British, British-Indian, French and Belgian lines. Returning to America in 1915, he published a series of keenly observant war articles in The Saturday Evening Post and other periodicals, became one of the executive secretaries of the National Defense Committee, New York (Mayor John Purroy Mitchell) and took an active part in organization and preparation for the inevitable conflict.

Commissioned as a reserve officer before the U. S. declaration of war, he returned to France for special staff duties before his division, the 78th—"Lightning," joining it and serving with it as Captain of Infantry and Division Staff Officer through all its operations in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives.

After the war Earle Looker became Associate-Editor of "Asia" Magazine, followed by six years as an advertising writer and executive in New York, finally giving up business to devote himself entirely to writing, to which he now brought a very concentrated human experience. The result, "The White House Gang" is to be followed later in the year by "The Captains and Kings."

Dudley Avenue. Refreshments were volunteered by Mr. Chios, as part of a new policy for quickening interest of members in the board's meetings, and Walter Case, of the Narberth Electric Shop, and Magistrate Fred Walzer were appointed a committee to provide entertainment.

Colonel Keesler in accepting his reelection as president lamented that business people have shown little interest in their body's activities recently. He urged greater co-operation in order that residents as well as merchants of Narberth might benefit.

"If more Narberth residents made purchases in their own community," he said, "it would be better for everyone concerned. Business people can prove to the residents that better service is obtainable in the neighborhood than elsewhere, and that prices of many commodities are actually lower in the suburban community than the average prices in Philadelphia stores.

"Let it be the Board of Trade's purpose to enlist the co-operation of every business person in an endeavor to give the best service possible, and to urge on the residents the advantages of

Buying at Home."

Report was made that progress has been made in preparation of a business directory which it is intended to distribute in 2500 homes in and near Narberth. To W. Russell Green's committee in charge of advertising, President Keesler appointed Harry Hollar, of the Narberth Printing Company, by whom the booklets are to be printed.

Employment Service to Solve Servant Problem

On January 22, 1930, No. 25 Ardmore Arcade, Ardmore, will be the headquarters of Moore's Employment Service. All domestic help problems will be courteously and efficiently handled. It will be possible to secure trained, uniformed, domestic help for a one-dinner event, a service that many will appreciate.

Moore's Employment Service has a personally-selected list of trained applicants—experienced cooks, waiters and waitresses for all social events. Employees will be garbed in appropriate uniforms. This employment service will be under the personal supervision of Mrs. Penelope Moore, who has an interesting background of experience in the field.

FORE AND AFT

In which the Main Line Repertory shows evidence of Progress; "Porgy" and Wm. Gillette in "Sherlock Holmes" Coming to Broad.

For the first time in the short history of our Theatre we are able to produce a play as it should be produced—with a network of departments to carry out every detail. Although "Arms and the Man" calls for only eight characters, it will involve the services of over forty persons, each with some responsibility in the production of the play. Out of the many who have come to us in the last month we have chosen the most dependable.

Space limits an outline of what these forty people have to do. Their specific functions would fill the entire page, yet it is the same work that a half dozen nervous, harassed souls have done in the past. These same half dozen are recuperating from the ravages of the last play. We feel certain, however, that under this new division of labor no one will have to lose sleep or show symptoms of a nervous breakdown.

Many of this new producing staff are inexperienced, yet their willingness to help in whatever capacity they were placed, and the interest they have shown, has assured us a thorough job. We believe that the two characteristics, willingness and interest, are worth just as much to us as experience.

But our organization is not yet complete. We have room for an infinite number of Main Liners who are interested in the Little Theatre. We want their ideas, their advices, or whatever service they will render. We want a smooth-flowing organization, which will move with clock-like precision.

In our present good condition we have already become choosy. There is one type of person in whom we have lost interest: the one who offers the old excuse—"I haven't the time." This we have found to be a hollow gesture of indifference. None of us have time for something that fails to interest us.

* * *

The New York Theatre Guild will temporarily transfer its activities to the Broad Street Theatre beginning on Monday, January 20, where, for one week only, it will present its famous folk-drama "Porgy." Presented at the Garrick two seasons ago, when the Guild was first organizing its subscription plan in Philadelphia, "Porgy" scored an emphatic hit during an all too-short engagement. Its return, although limited to a single week, is expected to be timely, inasmuch as the original cast has been held almost intact.

"Porgy" has had an interesting career since it scored at the Garrick two seasons ago. It has played "repeats" in New York on two separate occasions, making three engagements in all; it has been taken intact to England, where it played for a summer run at His Majesty's Theatre, and in the interim has visited twice nearly every large city east of the Rocky Mountains.

With its haunting negro spirituals, rendered as they are seldom heard in the North, its rapidly-changing series of colorful pageants, its superb cast of really talented actors, its deftly-drawn and humorous characters and, above all, its stunning rhythm and tempo make "Porgy" one of the unusual offerings of the Theatre Guild.

Having broken all records for a New York engagement of a dramatic attraction at the New Amsterdam Theatre, William Gillette comes to the Broad Street Theatre in his famous creation, "Sherlock Holmes," to say farewell to the stage, for an engagement of two weeks commencing Monday, January 27. Matinees will be played only on Saturdays, the usual midweek matinees being omitted.

Present 'All Aboard' Tonight, Tomorrow

Musical Comedy Offering of Dramatic Society at St. Margaret's Hall.

CAST IS ANNOUNCED

"All Aboard," a musical comedy, will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock by the St. Margaret's Dramatic Society at St. Margaret's Hall, Forest Avenue, Narberth.

The players have been busy rehearsing for the past several weeks, and, according to their press agent, a greater triumph is anticipated than in any previous performances.

The show is being produced by the John B. Rogers Company, who gave "Kathleen" three years ago. It is being staged by Doris Dindore.

The cast includes Jack O'Keefe as Johnny Thomas, a college boy; Katherine Burgess as Beatrice Sloane, a college girl; Dave Lanahan as Alexander C. Phome, the human truck; Jack MacAnally as Bill Brady, a football star; Sarah Burgess as Dorothy Brady, his sister; Peter Eidenburg as Captain Kidd, of U. S. S. Florida; Gretchen Little as Jenny, a Swedish stewardess; Matt Callahan as Bull Works, a crazy sailor, and Bill LaFore as Barney Kehl, a crazier one.

Peter Eidenburg is in charge of the tickets, which may also be purchased at the door.

Talk on Art to Feature Community Club Meeting

Miss Constance Cochrane, who will speak on "Art from the Artist's Viewpoint" at the next meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth on Tuesday, January 21, is one of the ten Philadelphia painters who hold such fine exhibitions each year in the Art Alliance in Philadelphia. She is a member of the national association of women sculptors and painters and a pupil of Elliott Daingerfield and of the School of Design for Women.

Miss Cochrane is most noted for her marine paintings. She gets her inspiration from the Maine coast, her studio being at Monhegan Island, where she does a great deal of her work. The lecture will be illustrated and presented so that the lay mind will get a greater enjoyment from the subject.

There will be at this meeting an exhibit of the knitted articles that may be made by the Knitting Class that will be started in February. This class will be open to non-members as well, and a competent instructor will be in charge.

The program is in charge of the Art Chairman, Mrs. Franklin P. Dunlop, and the hostess will be Mrs. N. E. Kent.

Frank Lloyd to Be Put on the Stand

Frye Attorney For Defense in Mock Trial at Methodist Church Thursday.

CHALFANT PROSECUTOR

In an effort to determine who killed Earl Wright, the Fellowship Club of the Narberth Methodist Church will put on a dramatic trial at 8 o'clock next Thursday evening, January 23. A jury has already been summoned. Hon. Fletcher W. Stites has been secured as Judge. The prosecutor in the case will be Harry M. Chalfant. Burgess Henry A. Frye will be the attorney for the defense. Nearly twenty local characters will appear.

Frank Lloyd will be tried for manslaughter. Many folks think he is not guilty and that the responsibility for the death of Earl Wright should rest on other shoulders. Other folks think the prosecutor would be showing better sense if he tried the bootlegger. Another character involved in it is one of the town's leading but unnamed society women.

This play is proving so popular in many sections of the country that it is rivaling the movies. It is very dramatic and likewise sober. The bootlegger will be as sober as the judge. It is well known in local circles that Frye and Chalfant do a great deal of scrapping and quarreling when they are linked up on the opposite sides of important cases. It is freely predicted that they will have to watch their step next Thursday night or the honorable court will lock them up for contempt.

Any citizen of Narberth who has the confidence and respect of his neighbors and friends will be admitted to the court room without question. But it will cost him a considerable slice of silver or long green to get out, and the aforesaid contribution will be used up in the new church project.

Forum Discusses Bible Use

The attendance at the fifth meeting of the Forum last week taxed the capacity of the large living room in the residence of Mrs. Clarence T. Faries, of Wynnewood, and may have indicated that the time will soon arrive when the Forum will be obliged to abandon its pleasant practice of meeting in private homes. The chapter in Dr. Fosdick's book, "The Modern Use of the Bible," entitled "Jesus the Messiah," was considered and discussed under the leadership of Rev. Robert E. Keighton. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, 208 Essex Avenue at 8 o'clock in the evening of Thursday, the 23d. At that meeting the final chapter in Dr. Fosdick's book, "Jesus the Son of God," will be the subject of discussion.

Plan Home Bake

A home bake will be held by the Women's Association of the Baptist Church of the Evangel, Narberth, on Saturday, January 5, from 9:30 on in the vacant store at 235 Haverford Avenue.

Classifieds Sell Wood Despite Warm Weather

Although this winter has been rather "open," William J. Foot, of 305 Parsons Avenue, Bala-Cynwyd, has found the demand for Cord Wood to hold up well. In the fall Mr. Foot placed a two-line classified ad in the three Livingston papers—Our Town (Narberth), News of Bala-Cynwyd and The Main Liner. This small ad brought such gratifying results that voluntarily he has re-ordered the space for ten more weeks.

Mr. Foot is only one of many who have testified to the pulling power of the "best classified section in the suburbs."

Asks Rotary's Aid For Youth's Ideals

'Should Be Given More Chances to Show Initiative,' Is Claim.

AEROPLANE NEXT TOPIC

"Aid today's youth become tomorrow's good citizen, and you will promote progress and future law observance," was the statement made by Walter M. Wood, general secretary of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A., at Tuesday's meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. His topic was "Idealism and Youth."

"Youth should be exposed to good examples," he declared, "given growing freedom from imposed guardianship; encouraged to do things when told, and to accomplish much without being commanded; given more things to do, and more stimulation to show initiative in doing them; and shown more inspiring examples of adult leadership."

"No wood to chop, no water to pump from the well—few chores to accomplish—are tendencies of the age," he went on. "But do we substitute enough other tasks to keep the youthful hands and minds busy in their growth to maturity? I recommend that youth be given more chances to do things for himself, instead of letting him simply take inventory of what has been done for him."

"Age brings to bear on its decisions fixed opinions valued in the light of past experience. Youth sees new situations without the background of experience. The viewpoints frequently clash, and youth frequently makes mistakes as a result of immature judgment. But youth should be encouraged to make decisions for himself, in order that he may form mature judgments later on."

A visitor at the meeting was Gene Baldwin, of the Ardmore Rotary Club. Next week's meeting will be in charge of Barclay Jones, headmaster of the Friends' Central School, who has secured as a speaker Charles H. English, Director of the Philadelphia Playground Association, who will talk about his latest project, the Philadelphia Model Aeroplane Association.

"This movement," according to its friends, is being sponsored by the Philadelphia Bulletin and has spread rapidly through the city, gaining the interest of hundreds of children who are making model aeroplanes, adding much to their enjoyment of leisure hours and developing a constructive interest in aeronautics that is desirable in the rising generation of any progressive city."
